DALLAS PREPARES FOR SHRINERS

Dallas, Tex., May 8.—The annual meeting of the imperial council, Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, will be held in Dallas next week, beginning Monday, and it is estimated that 35,000 or more visitors will be in the city. Every section of the country will be represented.

Monday will be devoted to the reception of the visitors and to sight-seeing trips about the city. Tuesday will be featured by the morning parade of bands and patrols acting as an official escort to the imperial officers to the place of meeting of the imperial council. At night the big spectacular Shrine pageant will take place following which the delegates will be entertained at a Mexican dinner and vaudeville show at the Fair Grounds.

Wednesday the patrols and bands will assemble for battalion formation and exhibition drills for rich prizes to be awarded by the executive committee. Late in the afternoon there will be a barbecue and a grand spectacle illustrating pioneer days in the Southwest. A reception and ball will be given Wednesday night.

The last half of the week, following the close of the imperial council sessions, will be devoted by many of the delegates and their families to a 1,000-mile tour of Texas, Galveston, Houston, Waco, San Antonio, Austin and other of the principal cities will be visited.

An army of decorators is already at work dressing up the downtown section of Dallas in anticipation of the coming of the Shriners. The night illuminations will be among the most brilliant ever seen in an American city. From all the trolley support wires along the leading thoroughfares are being hung immense Shrine emblems of the scimitar and crescent. The emblems are painted in white and gold and on each side illuminated by incandescent lights. On each side of the emblems will be suspended American, Texas and Shrine flags.

Locomotive Laboratory at U. of I.

Urbana, Ill., May 8.—A two-day program of exercises was inaugurated here today in connection with the dedication of the locomotive laboratory, railway engineering laboratory and mining engineering laboratory, three buildings recently erected in a group at the University of Illinois. As a result of the increased facilities afforded by the new laboratories it is expected that the state university will soon take rank among the best technical institutions in America.

The practical side of railway transportation in every detail is to be taught at the university. The new transportation building cost $200,000 and contains what is declared to be the finest laboratory in the world for testing locomotives. In the testing plant a locomotive can be run under conditions which may be varied at will. Problems of hauling power and coal and steam consumption may be easily investigated. Engine friction, which cannot be determined in ordinary road tests, may be easily tested in the laboratory.

SUFFRAGETTES DESPERATE

ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL WITH INFERNAL MACHINE.

London, May 7.—An attempt to wreck the ancient St. Paul's Cathedral by a bomb early today is attributed to militant suffragettes. The keeper who conducts sightseers through the massive structure was making his round at 8 o'clock this morning when he heard a ticking sound near the high altar. Upon investigation he found hidden a heavy parcel. He immediately placed it in water and handed it over to the police, who found a suffragette newspaper wrapped up with the bomb.

This attempt and the placing of two other bombs in other parts of the city this morning made it appear that militant suffragettes had entered anew on their havoc-working campaign as a sequel to the defeat of the woman suffrage bill in the House of Commons last night. Shortly after the discovery at the cathedral the police found a similar bomblike package on the steps of a newspaper office in Fleet street and a tin canister believed to contain explosives was picked up on the steps of a wholesale drug establishment near St. Paul's. No arrests were made. It is doubtful whether the police have clues to the identity of the bomb placers.

"Small but fiendishly powerful" is the police officers' description of the bomb. When it was taken to pieces it was found it was timed to explode at midnight. Apparently only a disarrangement of the clockwork prevented great damage.

The bomb from the cathedral was examined by the police and government experts. It was painted black and contained two detonators attached to an electric battery. It was filled with slugs of a substance resembling coal. There is no doubt, the police say, that it was placed by militant suffragettes or persons in their employ.

The general public is admitted to the choir and aisles of St. Paul's Cathedral between 11 a. m. and 3:30 p. m. The cathedral was closed entirely at 6 o'clock last evening and it appears certain that the bomb was deposited before that hour. It was found beneath a chair beside the bishop's throne at the head of the choir.

The dean conducted an even-song near the bishop's throne last evening, but neither he nor the verger then noticed the package or heard the ticking.

Plain clothes policemen have been on duty in St. Paul's for several weeks for the express purpose of preventing militant suffragette outbreaks, but they observed nothing wrong last night.

Several parts of the cathedral usually opened to the public were closed today.

Suffragette "arson squads" were also busy early today. They burned down a pavilion on the cricket field at Bishop's Park, Fulham, in the west end of London, and set fire to an unoccupied house at Finchley, in the north of London. Suffragette placards and quantities of chemicals were found in the vicinity of both fires.

Another mysterious fire broke out at a timber yard in Lambeth today, the fourth of this kind in London within a few days. It was extinguished before much damage had been done.

LEGISLATURE MAY NOT TAKE RECESS

Oklahoma City, Ok., May 7.—There is nothing sure about the Legislature taking a recess on Saturday, as contemplated in the Rexroat resolution, which has been adopted by the house. The conference committee report for quitting on May 10, and resuming on June 16, is pending business in the senate, but the leaders today conveyed information to the House that it would be impossible to get the important work out of the way. In view of that condition, the senator's said the recess would probably have to be delayed until next week.

A committee from the house again called on Gov. Cruce to talk about re-districting the state congressionally. The governor was assured that members wanted to make new districts, but he has insisted that the houses agree upon a fair apportionment before he will submit the question by message. When this injunction was delivered to some of the senate leaders, the answer was if the governor wanted the question acted upon it was in his province to say so in a message without a string to it. The forces are working, however, and it is ventured tonight there will be an amicable adjustment of the difference in a day or two. At any rate, the members believe they can get a bill through after the recess. Those who saw the governor quote him as saying that the legislature already had enough before it to keep grinding as long as it consented to remain in session, and he did not fancy the furnishing of new material to clog the wheels.

The federal court cases against Debs et al. have been dismissed. The Veatch case is about all they have left now as a basis for their perennial howl about persecution and they will have to play it up pretty strong to keep the dollars of the kumrds rolling in with old time regularity.

Muskogee county is now the owner of a steamboat, having recently captured the Maritima D, which was navigating the Arkansas with a cargo of booze. The Muskogee boosters can now put the boat into regular service between their city and European ports, and perhaps thereby furnish an unanswerable argument for government appropriations for improving the river.

Republican postmasters of the United States who fondly dreamed of a life time job as a result of President Taft's order placing them under civil service which should apply only to their successors, have had a rude awakening. President Wilson has so modified the order that the present postmasters must stand the same examination to which new men are subjected. This placing old and new on the same level is eminently fair and gives deserving democrats a chance at the pie counter of which Taft sought to deprive them.

FOR A WORTHY CAUSE

BY JAMES KILROY.

"Well, old man, what are you doing here?" exclaimed Simpkins as he sat down beside Brander at a table in the corner of the restaurant.
Brander took a savage bite out of a buttered roll before he answered shortly: "Watching the waiters play tiddledewinks with the dishes. What did you suppose I came here for—to bale hay?"
"Don't be so smart," begged Simpkins. "From the way you've been bragging about the place where you board, and making our mouths water over what you say you get to eat there, nobody would ever suppose you'd come back to this nix for a nickel joint."

The other young man shuddered as he poked at the fried potatoes before him. "When I think of the tissue paper china, the honest and truly coffee, the uncanned vegetables, the sure enough butter we got there—" A sigh finished the sentence.

"What happened?" inquired his friend, sympathetically. "Old lady die?"

"Nope," Brander shook his head. "Well, weep on my shoulder," suggested Simpkins. "Tell me all about it. What drove you from your happy home?"

"Bazaars!" grunted Brander.

"Indeed? If so, why?"

"Since you must know, my old lady, as you call the best cook that ever was, belongs to the United Order of Purple Pinks."

"What's it?"

"Oh, a sort of charitable organization and sorority mixed. They're holding a bazaar this week, to get money for a statue of the founder to put in a niche that happens to be in their meeting hall. Any money that's left goes to the heathen Chinese or something."

"But where do you come in, or rather get out?"

Brander snorted. "Can a woman be at a bazaar all day and night and find time to cook for folks at home? A whole month now we've had that bazaar served to us at meals. Besides that, contributions are constantly levied. I got off easy by giving a check, but the girls at the house have had to make articles till we could hardly wade through the heaps of blue wool dolls, pale pink tie racks, green aprons and yellow piano scarfs piled up in the parlor. Embroidery silks appeared in the salads and needles in the bread."

"Worst of all, no one talked of anything but the heavenly statue and how stingy people are when it comes down to real charity. And I don't know how many 'chances' I've bought on things I don't want to see, even if they did show 'em to me. Then we were told to get our supper elsewhere this week, because our landlady felt that they needed her to conduct the bazaar. We were told to sacrifice ourselves for the good of the cause; nay, more, that supper is being served by the United Sisters. But excuse me."

"Twenty-five cents admission, 35 for supper, 50 for a posy in your buttonhole and a dollar to get out!" chanted Simpkins.

After nervously fumbling in his pockets, Brander said: "Here are a lot of tickets you can have. Take your girl to the bazaar. It's real pretty. Have a good time."

But Simpkins shied. "What do you take me for—a millionaire? I'd never get out alive."

"Think of the noble cause," entreated Brander. "Think of the good you can do."

"I'm sorry," apologized Simpkins, "but this is my busy week. Every evening is filled."

"The man that hath not charity in his soul," misquoted Brander, scornfully. "You don't have to buy anything. Just go and look on."

"Take your own girl," retorted Simpkins.

"I did. I bought her the tie holder that she's going to give me for Christmas."

"Poor old Brander!" said Simpkins. "Well, never mind. You'll soon have peace. It can't last forever."

"What can't, the holder or the bazaar? But neither can I," Brander sighed again.

Rabbit Developed a New Nail.
About forty-five years ago three pairs of enterprising rabbits were introduced into Australia. Today the increase of these six immigrants may be counted by millions. They became a pest to the country. Fortunes have been spent to exterminate them. Wire fences many feet high and thousands of miles long have been built to keep out the invaders.

The rabbits had to fight awful odds to live, but they have now outwitted man. They have developed a new nail—a long nail by which they can retain their hold on the fence while climbing. With this same nail they can burrow six or eight inches under the netting and thus enter the fields that mean food and life to them. They are now laughing at man. Reserve power has vitalized for these rabbits latent possibilities, because they did not tamely accept their condition, but in their struggle to live learned how to live.—Animals' Friend.

King Adds to County Estate.
King George has purchased, for $60,000, Sherborne hall farm, close to Sandringham. The farm was bequeathed to Emanuel college, Cambridge, many years ago. An interesting clause in the agreement between the college and the tenant is that the tenant should supply six fat turkeys yearly to the college.

FIRST GRAY HAIR SIGN OF AGE

Easy Way to Preserve Natural Color of the Hair and Make It Grow.

A harmless remedy made from common garden sage, quickly restores gray hair to natural color. The care of the hair, to prevent it from losing its color and lustre, is just as important as to care for the teeth to keep them from discoloring. Why spend money for cosmetics and creams to improve the complexion, and yet neglect your hair, when gray hair is even more conspicuous and suggestive of age than wrinkles or a poor complexion? Of the two, it is easier to preserve the natural color and beauty of the hair than it is to have a god complexion.

All that is necessary is the occasional use of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation of common garden Sage and Sulphur, combined with other valuable remedies for dry, harsh, faded hair dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. After a few applications of this simple, harmless, remedy, your hair will be gradually restored to its natural color, in a short time the dandruff will be removed, and your hair will no longer come out, but will start to grow as Nature intended it should.

Don't neglect your hair, for it goes further than anything else to make or mar your good looks. You can buy this remedy at any drug store for fifty cents a bottle, and your druggist will give your money back if you are not satisfied after using. Purchase a bottle today. You will never regret it when you realize the difference it will make in your appearance.—Agents, Gwin & Mays Drug Co., Ada, Okla.—adv.

OFFICERS MUST TAKE RIGID OATH

Oklahoma City, May 8.—Notwithstanding the bitter fight that was waged against the Russell bill prescribing an additional oath for public officials in the senate Wednesday morning, the bill was passed finally by the vote of twenty-eight members of the upper house. Only four or five senators voted against the measure when it was put up for final message, but for nearly two hours from ten to fifteen members voted for amendments which were designed to bring about the final defeat of the bill. Briefly the Russell bill prescribes an additional oath to that which is now used, that a public official must take an oath that he is not addicted to gambling or excessive use of liquor, that he has not participated in any games of chance within twelve months prior, and that he will not be guilty of such practices during his term of office. The penalty is impeachment and removal from office.

This morning Tom Rye, the efficient guardian of the jail, returned from Francis with om Mitchell and five gallons of what was said to have been alcohol and alleged to have been in possession of Mitchell. The capture was made by the city marshal of Francis.

Edmond Defeats State University.

Edmond, Okla., May 7.—Backed by errorless and brilliant support and flowing the hard-hitting Sooners on ythree scratch hits, Gray enabled Central State Normal to defeat the University of Oklahoma baseball team here Wednesday 2 to 0. Only six Sooners reached first base and only one eached third. Gray's splitter was working in great shape but the only two rrors made by the local were made by him.

The star of the infield was Hamilton who accepted six hard chances. Wright and Liston both played in big league style.

For three innings Dunn, who started on the mound for Oklahoma, was invincible, but in the fourth, four of he six hits made by the locals were unched, resulting in the only pair of uns of the game. Courtright relieved him and allowed only one hit.

Walter Goyne and C. M. Long are preparing to open an up to date cafe in the new Carney building on Townsend avenue. They are installing the finest fixtures and will make their place one of the nicest in Ada. They will probably be ready for business by Saturday. They will call their cafe the Imperial and will cater to the best trade. Walter is an old hand at the business and could not stay out of it very long.

Owing to the fact that the vaudeville last evening did not measure up to the usual high standard at the Majestic, Manager Ward states that it will not be repeated this evening. However he has two unusually good pictures. The first is "Annie Rowley's Fortune," featuring Arthur Wilson. An amusing and sensational love story. Diverging Pats is a story illustrating the final results of right and wrong living.

Prosperous Sons of Norway.

New York, May 8.—The annual pilgrimage of Scandinavian-Americans to the fatherland, which this year promises to reach unusually large proportions, was inaugurated today with the departure of a party for Norway. The party included about sixteen families, all residents of North Dakota, where they evidently have prospered, judging by the fact that they chartered a private car in which to make the trip from the west to this city.

Southern Baptists to Meet.

St. Louis, Mo., May 8.—St. Louis is preparing for the entertainment of the Southern Baptist Convention, which will meet here next week for its annual session. The convention is the largest delegated body in the world, and is usually attended by about 1,500 accredited delegates and many visitors. The territory of the convention lies wholly in the Southern states, the division between North and South having been made in 1845. The convention devotes itself to a review of the theological, publication, missionary, educational and other activities of the denomination and to a consideration of plans for the future.

PONTOTOC COUNTY

MAY BE EXEMPT

County Attorney Roland and Commissioners Montgomery and Kroth made a trip to Oklahoma City to urge that Pontotoc county be included among those in which the cumbersome township form of government should be abolished. Mr. Roland returned this morning highly elated with the success of their mission. The bill passed the house Wednesday and was sent to the senate which lost no time in taking it up. It passed the first reading Thursday night and evidently has a fair chance of passage.

It is to be hoped that the measure will become a law. In this part of the state it has proved worse than useless and also very expensive. Conditions here not warrant its continuance and its abolition should have the effect of materially lowering the tax rate in the rural districts. A great deal of trouble has arisen on account of the division of authority over the roads between the county commissioners and township boards, and this will enable the commissioners to do much more effective work than heretofore.

A SHAKEUP AMONG FOURTH CLASS POSTMASTERS

Washington, D. C., May 8.—After a conference with President Wilson today, Postmaster-General Burleson announced that an executive order would be issued requiring that all fourth class postmasters now in office or candidates for prospective appointments should be subjected to a competitive examination to determine their fitness for the office.

The postmaster general issued a statement explaining the purpose of the new executive order declaring that President Taft's action in putting the fourth class postmasters in the classified service was not sufficient and that the mere placing of a "great horde of persons" in the classified service was not in conformity with the spirit of the civil service as there were no tests to determine the merits of the applicants.

The new order which substantially amends the Taft executive order, retains in the classified service all fourth class postmasters, but specifically requires a competitive examination and a selection by post office inspectors from among the first three eligible applicants. The order places the age limit for appointees at 65 years of age.

Mr. Burleson in his discussion of the situation indicates that the Wilson administration wishes to take the fourth class postmasters out of politics but points out that democrats as well as republicans will have an opportunity under competitive conditions to show their fitness.

Mr. Burleson announced today that it was the purpose of President Wilson and himself to take into the classified service probably during the next year all postmasters of the second and third classes. Fourth class offices already have been covered by executive order.

Bankers Discuss Rural Credits.

Dothan, Ala., May 8.—A program devoted almost wholly to the consideration of agricultural problems and plans to promote the welfare of the farmers faced the members of the Alabama Bankers' Association when they assembled here this afternoon and began their twenty-first annual convention. A variety of opinions on the question of rural credits was brought out at the opening session. Some of the bankers stated that the farmers are paying as high as twenty per cent for some of the money that they borrow to handle their crops, while other of the bankers declared that this high rate was exceptional and that loans were being made at the lowest possible figures, consistent with good banking. This and other subjects of a kindred nature are to be further discussed at the subsequent sessions of the convention. The gathering will conclude Saturday with a visit to St. Andrew's bay, on the Gulf.

BASE BALL RULES OF 65 YEARS AGO

It will no doubt be interesting to the baseball fans of today to compare some of the rules of sixty-five years ago to those of the present time. When the rules were first framed, about 1845, they would not fill one page of the baseball guide of today.

The Knickerbocker club of New York city was the first one organized to play the now national game of baseball, and was the one from which the succeeding clubs derived their rules of playing. The organization bears the date of September 23, 1845, when playing rules were adopted, which are given below and present a curious contrast to those now in vogue.

1. The bases shall be from "home" to second base, 42 paces; from first to third base, 42 paces; equal distant.
2. The game to consist of 21 counts or aces, but at the conclusion of an equal number of hands must be played.
3. The ball must be pitched and not thrown for the bat.
4. A ball knocked out the field, or outside the range of the first or third base, is a foul.
5. Three balls being struck at and missed and the last one caught is a hand out; if not caught, is considered fair and the striker is bound to run.
6. If a ball be struck or tipped and caught, either flying or on the first bound, it is a hand out.
7. A player running the bases shall be out if the ball is in the hands of an adversary on the base, or the runner is touched with it before he makes his base; it being understood, however, that in no instance is a ball to be thrown at him.
8. A player running who shall prevent an adversary from catching or getting the ball before making his base is a hand out.
9. Three hands out, all out.
10. Players must take their strike in regular turn.
11. All disputes and differences relative to the game to be decided by the umpire, from which there is no appeal.
12. No ace or base can be made on a foul strike.
13. A runner can not be put out in making one base when a balk is made by the pitcher.
14. But one base allowed when a ball bounds out of the field when struck.—Exchange.

NORMAL NOTES

By MOIKE CASSIDY

The student body as well as members of the faculty were very much disappointed this morning because Prof. Perkins didn't give a talk about the Chicago University and never said a word about his being glad to be back. But we all know he is, just the same.

Nearly all the classes will meet today to elect a baseball captain for the inter class games that start next Tuesday and last the remainder of the week. The members of the faculty have challenged the winner of the series. From present indications the Freshmen class looks like a sure winner. Here's hoping.

The members of the Tennis club are very busy to see who is the best player or players. As soon as the winner is picked there will be a tournament between the normal and the men of the town.

The following classes elected basketball captains and managers today at noon: Sub-Freshman, Roddie, captain; Cottingham, manager; Freshman, Tolbert, captain; Ligon, manager; The Sophomores, elected that "hard hitting" short stop Ralph McMillan.

We don't know what the juniors and seniors did but we are afraid they will have to have some girls to make

OKLAHOMA CITY DRUG STORE PUT OUT OF BUSINESS

The Night and Day drug store, an alleged erstwhile booze bazar is no more. It was officially confiscated Wednesday afternoon and moved lock, stock and barrel into the county jail. One of the proprietors and a clerk were given a berth in the county bastille for a short time, but they made bond and were released shortly before night.

The entire equipment of the drug store, including all show cases, furniture and fixtures was moved into the jail.

The place was raided about two weeks ago, the proprietors arrested and taken before a justice of the peace where they were given an examining trial and released to await the action of the grand jury, and the doors of the place were closed by the officers.

Wednesday Sherman Billingsley, one of the proprietors and W. T. Bonner, a clerk were rearrested by Deputy Sheriff R. S. Moore and M. E. Smith, this time on a warrant from the grand jury and taken to jail.

The owner of the building requested Wednesday that the fixtures be moved out and under the direction of the county officers they were taken to the jail where they were stored. —Oklahoma.

INDIGNATION MEETING

BY JAMES HARDING.

"Well, wouldn't that make you tired!" called Mrs. Brill as she came out on her back porch and slammed the door sharply behind her.

Her neighbor, Mrs. Graves, looked up in surprise, for Mrs. Brill was of a most unruffled demeanor ordinarily. Sitting back on her heels in the grass, she abandoned her pursuit of dandelions long enough to inquire sympathetically, "What would?"

Mrs. Brill's prettily frilled dust cap fairly stood on end with indignation. "I've been trying to get Raymond's school by telephone for at least half an hour. You know my sister and her little boy are coming up for the day, and of course, Raymond wants to stay at home. Well, he's in the entertainment next week and I wanted to tell his teacher he'll be absent today and I wanted to find out about his costume. But do you suppose I could get that school? No, indeed! And I tell you, Mrs. Graves, the phone service we have here now is something awful. There is a phone at the school, for I saw it one day. There is no number in the book and all I could get out of those girls was 'We have no record.' I tell you our improvement association ought to get after the phone service instead of putting up any more fancy street lamps."

"Now, Mrs. Brill," expostulated the woman two doors away, who had suspended operations on her clothesline to listen and who stood drooping gracefully over the fence and rattling the clothespins in her apron pocket. "It isn't the fault of the telephone at all; it's the schools, or the school board, or something. Listen to what happened to me the other day."

"I wanted to go down town early and get at the sales before the bargains were all picked over," related the woman two doors away. "I hurried so that I forgot to take the pigs' feet off the stove that were cooking for my husband's supper. He likes them once in a while and they have to be fixed just so in order to suit him. These were awfully nice ones and I wanted to cook them as long as possible. On the car I remembered that I hadn't removed them, but the gas was turned low, so they couldn't burn very soon. Well, I hurried to the nearest phone to call up Bobbie at his school and tell him to run over at recess time and turn out the gas."

"But do you suppose I got any satisfaction? Well, I didn't. Oh, I was mad! Here I had planned on those sales for a month, you know, to get some furniture and hangings cheap for the porch. I didn't half look at what they had, just bought some things in a hurry and then rushed home. I was hardly in time either, for those pigs' feet were scorched."

"Then my husband got mad. You know, John is awfully particular about what he eats. And I had to send the furniture back because it wasn't at all what I wanted."

She paused a moment for breath and to enjoy the sympathetic comments of her neighbor. Then, with a coquettish toss of her head, she continued: "Well, I just told John how it all was. You see, my husband knows the superintendent of this district real well. They go down together on the 7:45 train late often. So he'll just fix it up at headquarters. The idea of not being able to phone to one's own child in a city of this size!"

Mrs. Brill nodded emphatically at Mrs. Graves, who had gone back to hunting dandelions. Though ostensibly talking to the woman two doors away, she directed her next remarks straight to Mrs. Graves, whom she considered more or less a party to the misdemeanors of the city school, because Mrs. Graves had once taught in them.

"That's just it," declared Mrs. Brill. "Now, in Splashtown, where my sister teaches, you can phone to anyone in any school at any time about anything. That's how it should be. Suppose somebody should die suddenly, or break an arm or something. You couldn't get word to the child in any way here."

Mrs. Graves answered the accusation as she picked up the mutilated dandelions preparatory to going into the house. "Surely, every kind of message should be given and to every one of the thousands of youngsters in the schools just because some one might die some time. It would take several clerks just for that and the classes would be continually disturbed, but what of that?"

"Well," pouted Mrs. Brill, "what do we pay taxes for?"

"That's right," insisted the neighbor two doors away. "Anyway, my husband's going to see about it." —Chicago Daily News.

Admire American Fashions.

American fashions have recently become very popular with the young men of Belgrade, Servia. There is an unprecedented demand at the local shops for hats, boots and other wearing apparel similar to that in vogue in the United States, and the American style of their cutting has come into favor. These innovations, according to the American consul, are the result of the exhibition of moving pictures of American origin.

Caffeineless Coffee.

The American consul at Tamatave, Madagascar, has sent to Washington samples of a natural caffeineless coffee growing in that island. It is locally known as "mantaska" or "cafe sauvage," grows to a height of 12 to 20 feet and resembles the ordinary coffee tree, but has smaller leaves and a yellowish berry.

Break Away From Blood Bondage

Drugs in Common Use Harmful as the Disease They are Supposed to Cure.

Many people are shackled to continued suffering by the drugs they use. These seem to dry up the surface but there's a stomach almost destroyed, there are ulcerated bones; locomotor ataxia, convulsions, abscesses, falling hair, impaired eye-sight, deafness, and a host of other recognized as the greatest blood purifier ever known.

If you have been fighting some blood trouble, some eruptive skin disease, call it eczema, lupus, psoriasis, malaria, scrofula or what you will, there is but one sure, safe way to cure it. Ask at any drug store for a $1.00 bottle of S. S. S. and you are then on the road to health. The action of this remarkable remedy is just as direct, just as positive, just as certain in its influence as that the sun rises in the east. It is one of those rare medical forces which act in the blood with the same degree of certainty that is found in all natural tendencies. The manner in which it dominates and controls the mysterious transference of rich, red, pure arterial blood for the diseased venous blood is marvelous.

Out through every skin pore acids, germs and other blood impurities are forced in the form of invisible vapor. The lungs breathe it out, the liver is stimulated to consume a great proportion of impurities, the stomach and intestines cease to convey into the blood stream the catarrhal, malarial germs; the bowels, kidneys, bladder and all excretories of the body are marshalled into a fighting force to expel every vestige of eruptive disease.

There is scarcely a community anywhere but what has its living example of the wonderful curative effect of S. S. S. Get a bottle of this famous remedy today, and if your case is stubborn or peculiar write to The Swift Specific Co., 127 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. 900 Per Cent Stock Dividend.

Council Bluffs, Ia., May 8.—The action of the stockholders of the Continental Oil Company of Iowa, at their annual meeting here today, in endorsing the proposal to dispose of its business and assets to the Continental Oil Company of Colorado, paves the way for the slicing of one of the juiciest dividend melons that has ever been distributed by any corporation in the United States. According to the terms of the sale the "stockholders of the old Iowa corporation are to receive ten shares of the Colorado company's stock for each share now held.

The Iowa company was incorporated in 1884 and has done a very profitable marketing business since that time. On December 31, 1906, the book value of the company's stock held by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey was placed at $1,301,516, but since that time it has been estimated that the liquidating value of the shares is approximately $2400 each.

This concern, like most of the other former subsidiaries, is believed to have expanded considerably since the dissolution of the Standard Oil Trust, and it has been deemed wise to increase the capital stock to a figure more nearly representing the company's assets. The laws of Iowa are such that it would be difficult to increase the capital of the old concern and therefore the problem has been solved by the incorporation of a new company in Colorado. The proposition to exchange one share in the old company for ten shares in the Colorado company virtually amounts to the distribution of a 900 per cent stock dividend to the stockholders of the Continental Oil Company of Iowa.

J. J. Hallmark, who was in from Lula this morning, stated that the rain had been of untold benefit to that section. Oats were suffering but now everything looks fine.
